Introduction to the Biblical DISC™ Assessment

Congratulations on taking the Biblical DISC Assessment. This is a useful tool to gain new insights into your behavior and the behavior of others with whom you interact. Reading this report, working through some of the exercises, and applying the principles you learn will lead to enhanced relationships and results. You will discover how God used the behavioral style of people in Scripture to accomplish His purposes, and how Jesus modeled the perfect behavior to love, live and lead effectively. You will gain a unique perspective into how God created you and how He can use you to serve His kingdom.

DISC BEHAVIORAL STYLES

The DISC model of human behavior provides a common language to help people understand themselves and others. For many decades, research has shown that human behavior can be categorized into four basic categories, with multiple patterns emerging from these four styles. This report uses DISC:

Dominance, Innuencing, Steadiness and Conscientious to describe these four categories of behavior. The Biblical DISC Assessment focuses on patterns of external, observable behaviors that each style exhibits. The model is simple, practical, and easy to remember and use.

HOW TO USE THIS REPORT

This DISC report is divided into three parts, and includes application exercises on many pages:

Part I focuses on understanding your DISC style characteristics. Each style has its own unique strengths as well as opportunities for continued improvement and growth. The behavioral descriptions mentioned in this report are tendencies for your style group. You may personalize the report by determining which statements apply specifically to you and which do not. Further insights into your behavior will be gained by checking in with others who know you well enough to determine areas that may be "blind spots" for you.

Part II focuses on the application of DISC to men and women in the Bible, highlighting the decisions they made and the human motivation for their behavior. You will learn how pride and fear affected their decisions and behavior, and the transformation that occurred when they submitted their lives to the Lord's will. You will also discover how Jesus was and is the perfect role model for loving, living and leading.

Part III focuses on the application of the model in your everyday life, both personally and professionally. You will discover how to "read" the style of others, and then how to modify your behavior to meet their needs or the needs of the situation, when appropriate. Strategies will be shared for developing better lines of communication and stronger relationships. In short, you will learn to love like Jesus loves.

KEY PRINCIPLES OF THE DISC MODEL

- There is no "best style" - all styles have value, and everyone is a blend of the four styles.
- Your behavioral style is influenced by other factors, including values, life experiences, and maturity.
- A first key to being more effective is understanding yourself and your behavioral style.
- A second key is understanding others' style and their motivations and priorities.
- A third key to being more effective with others is learning to flex or adapt your behavior.
- God's Word is always the final authority on all matters in dealing with people and their behavior.

Understanding the DISC Behavioral Model

BEHAVIORAL STYLES

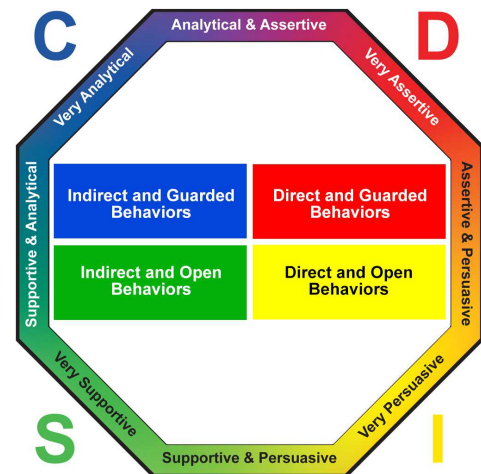

Historical and contemporary research reveals more than a dozen various models of our behavioral differences, but many share one common thread: the grouping of behavior into four basic categories. The DISC styles are Dominance, Influencing, Steadiness, and Conscientious. There is no “best” style. Each style has its unique strengths and opportunities for continuing improvement and growth. The Biblical DISC Assessment examines external and easily observable behaviors and measures tendencies using scales of directness and openness that each style exhibits.

Listed Below are Behavioral Descriptors of Each Style

DOMINANCE	INFLUENCING	STEADINESS	CONSCIENTIOUS
Decisive Competitive Daring Direct Innovative Persistent Adventurous Problem Solver Results Oriented	Charming Confident Convincing Enthusiastic Inspiring Optimistic Persuasive Sociable Trusting	Understanding Friendly Good Listener Patient Relaxed Sincere Stable Steady Team Player	Accurate Precise Analytical Compliant Courteous Diplomatic Precise Fact Finder Objective

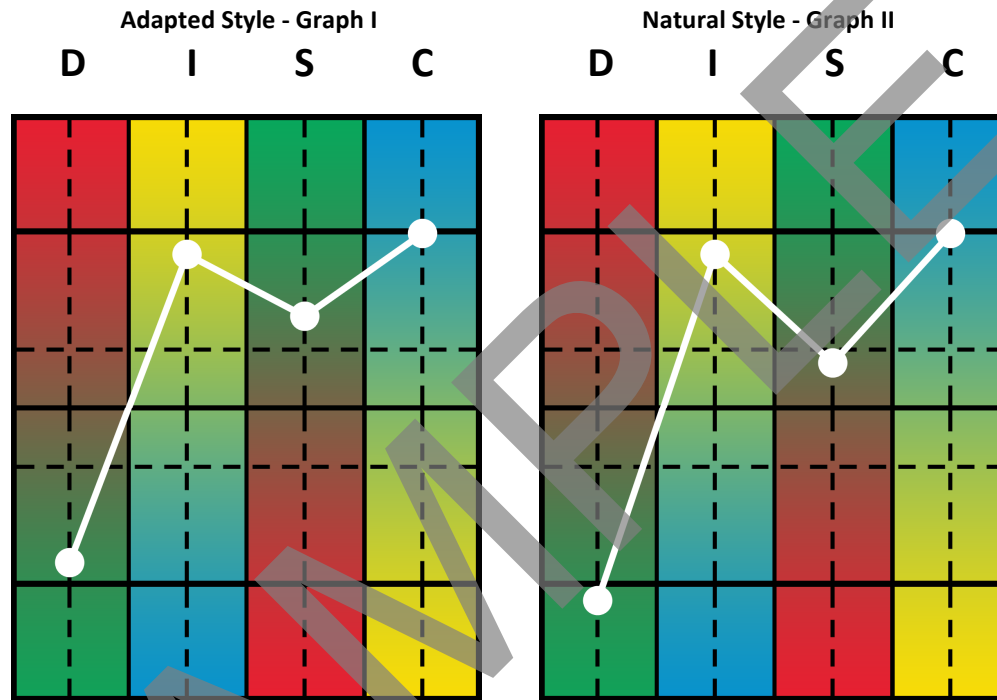

Recognizing the Directness and Openness of Each Style

STYLE	TENDENCIES
Dominance	Tends to be direct and guarded
Influence	Tends to be direct and open
Steadiness	Tends to be indirect and open
Conscientious	Tends to be indirect and guarded

Understanding Your Adapted and Natural Styles

Your Adapted Style (Graph I) is the graph shown on the left. This is your perception of the behavior that best fit your focus when you took the assessment. It can change when you refocus on a new role or relationship. The graph to the right is your Natural Style (Graph II) and measures your instinctive style. It tends to identify the most "true and accurate" you. This graph tends to describe how you respond when you are most comfortable and also tends to define how and why you predictably react to expectations, fear and confrontation. Graph II tends to be the more stable of the two.

If the plotting points in both graphs are similar, it suggests that you tend to use the same behaviors in your chosen role or situation as you use in your natural environment. If they are different, this may cause stress over time and result in you using greater degrees of energy to function in the specific role you focused on when taking this assessment. Differences can also cause greater degrees of fatigue.

The plotting points also can identify clusters of behavioral traits. On pages 18 and 19, these traits are color coded on the four D, I, S and C continuums. You are encouraged to validate the accuracy of the traits in describing what is happening in your Adapted Style and your Natural Style. Once you are aware of the differences between the graphs and the validity of the traits, you can better apply stress management strategies in coping with challenges. It can also help you in knowing who you might need on your team or in your life to function in roles that are your greatest stretches of behavior.

Application: Compare your two graphs, and look for discrepancies of two or more segments on the graphs in any of your D-I-S-C dimensions. Consider what might be the cause of those discrepancies, and if this causes stress in your life. Determine ways to ease this stress. (Contact your DISC practitioner who gave you this assessment if you'd like to have a coach help you understand this information more fully.)

Part I: Understanding Self through the DISC Behavioral Model

General Characteristics

The narration below serves as a general overview of your behavioral tendencies. It sets the stage for the report which follows, and provides a framework for understanding and reflecting on your results. Coaching ideas are occasionally provided so that you can leverage your strengths whenever possible to maximize your personal success.

You are able to accomplish complex tasks by working enthusiastically with people. Even when faced with very complex requirements, you have the ability to both harness the emotional capacity of your team, as well as deal with the details and minutiae of the project.

Jack, you show the ability to be both people-oriented and detail-oriented, with equal skill and confidence. This is a rare and valuable skill, as it allows you to enlist the help of a wide variety of people who may not ordinarily work well together, and focus their efforts in the same direction.

Some people don't always "get it" right away. To that point, you show a special skill in helping others visualize the activities necessary for success. You do this by creating mental pictures for your audience in communicating what the vision is all about. Using those mental pictures, you are able to illuminate a variety of pathways to success. Be certain to use this skill when working with team members who are having trouble articulating the vision.

You score like those who may become somewhat impatient or aggressive when under pressure. As long as you realize this, you can potentially harness this urgency to achieve optimal success on a task. Use your natural optimism to maintain a positive climate, even when under pressure. You'll get better results and keep more people on board with the project. Your potential to be aggressive may sometimes lead to conflict. Attempt to minimize this conflict by taking a more positive, team-oriented approach.

You score like those who bring an appropriate balance between logic and emotion when communicating to others. Your "people skills" and natural ability as a communicator enable you to respond quickly on your feet, and maintain a positive climate of communication.

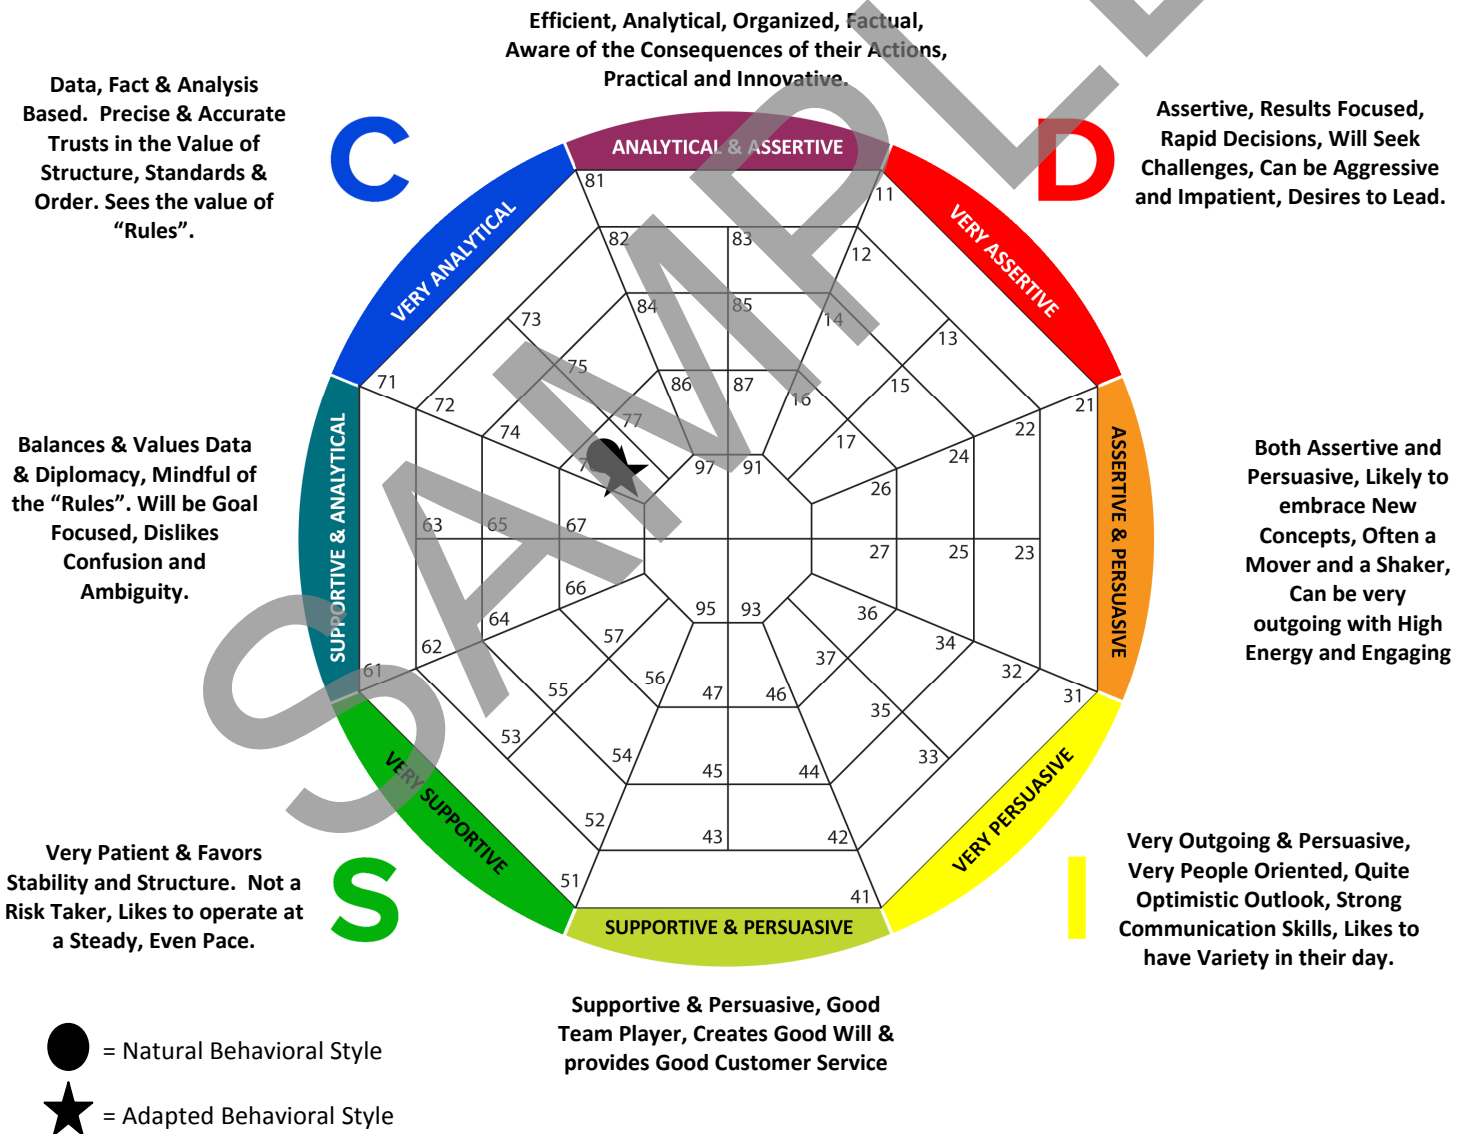

Your results indicate that you are able to help initiate complex processes and activity. This comes from two specific traits: people orientation, and detail orientation. Your "people skills" can be used to engage others in an idea or process, while your attention to detail can help maintain a level of quality control. The latter is a skill that few people share and is something that you should attempt to leverage and maximize.

A Deeper Look at Your Behavior: The Behavioral Pattern View

The Behavioral Pattern View (BPV) has eight behavioral zones. Each zone identifies a different combination of behavioral traits. The peripheral descriptors describe how others typically see individuals with your style. Plots on the outer edges of the diamond identify that one factor (DISC) of your style will dominate the other three. As you move towards the center of the diamond, two and eventually three traits combine to moderate the intensity of your style descriptors within a specific behavioral zone.

THE SCORING LEGEND

- D = Dominance: How you deal with Problems and Challenges
I = Influencing: How you deal with People and Contacts
S = Steadiness: How you deal with Pace and Consistency
C = Conscientious: How you deal with Procedure and Constraints

Part II: Understanding Biblical Characters with DISC Behavior

Your Combined DISC Style Pattern

Up to this point, you have examined your DISC behavior largely by isolating the high and low plotting points and identifying which behaviors you display based on those points. While these descriptions are often quite accurate, they do not give you the full picture of your behavior. On the next four pages you will begin to see how the D, I, S, and C plotting points combine to make you the unique person you are in terms of behavioral characteristics.

The descriptions of the 16 most common behavioral patterns (DISC combinations) along with Biblical characters associated with each pattern are listed on pages 26-29. Find the graphs on these pages that look most like the shapes of your Graph I and Graph II found on page 6. Typically, each pattern will have one or two – and sometimes three - of the DISC plotting points that are prominently displayed, plotted above the midline. Look for the graph that has the same general shape as yours, even though some plotting points may be slightly higher or lower.

Circle the two graphs that correspond with your Graph I and Graph II. If your Graph I and Graph II are identical or fairly similar, you will only need to circle one.

Application

If your Graph I and Graph II are fairly similar, you only need to complete one graph assignment below. If they are different in their shape, you will get insights into your behavior by completing the assignment for both graphs. List the Biblical character(s) that are associated with your behavioral pattern(s) for

Graph I: _____

Graph II: _____

Read the descriptive information about the behavioral pattern(s) on the following pages. Personalize the information by placing a plus (+) sign next to those phrases you agree with, a minus sign (-) by those you disagree with, and a question mark (?) by phrases you are unsure about. Discuss this information with a person who knows you well to gain further insights into your behavior.

Look up the scripture passages listed with your behavioral pattern(s) and note how the Biblical characters exhibited congruent behaviors associated with that pattern.

What did you learn about that character(s)? How do you see that behavior exhibited in your own life?

DISC BLENDS & BIBLICAL CHARACTERS

Your blended pattern above the midline on the Biblical DISC Assessment graph on page 6 is _____. Review the lists below and circle the blended pattern and biblical character that best represent your style.

Application: Read about the Biblical character that most closely corresponds with your DISC style (see verses on previous pages). Identify the DISC fears or points of pride that caused that character to edge God out? Study the Scriptures to determine what that person did to submit to the Holy Spirit and exalt God only. Write action ideas here about how God might use you as you submit to Him in expanding His Kingdom and fulfilling your life's purpose. How will you exalt God only?

1 - Ken Voges is the originator in associating DISC Behavioral Styles with Biblical characters.

Who Was Jesus?

"... He [Jesus] existed in the form of God, did not regard equality with God a thing to be grasped; but emptied Himself, taking the form of a bond-servant and being made in the likeness of men. And being found in appearance as a man, He humbled Himself by becoming obedient to the point of death, even death on a cross.

Therefore, also God highly exalted Him, and bestowed on Him the name which is above every name that at the name of Jesus EVERY KNEE SHOULD BOW, of those who are in heaven, and on earth, and under the earth.

And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."
Philippians 2:6-11 (NAS)

What the Passage Suggests

1. Jesus was 100% God.
2. For the 30+ years while on earth, Jesus was also 100% man, yet He remained sinless.
3. Therefore, Jesus experienced all the attributes of human behavior.
4. Jesus totally understands us and how to meet our needs through agape love (unconditional love).

What Makes the Ideal Behavioral Style?

"The DISC research evidence supports the conclusion that the most effective people are those who know themselves, recognize the demands of the situation and adjust or change their behavior so as to have the best chance to meet the needs of any given opportunity."

Jesus did this perfectly!

PART III: Applying the DISC Model to Lead and Love Like Jesus

Understanding your own behavioral style is just the first step to enhancing relationships. The next step is to apply it in real life situations. Jesus' command to "love one another as I have loved you" (John 13:34) compels us to modify our behavior when appropriate to meet others' needs. The power of behavioral styles lies in its application to people and situations. People want to be treated according to their behavioral style, not yours. And Jesus invites us to treat others as He would treat them.

THIS APPLICATION SECTION INCLUDES:

- How to Identify Another Person's Behavioral Style
- How to Modify Directness, Openness, Pace and Priority
- How to Adapt to the Different Behavioral Styles
- Communication Plan with Different Styles
- DISC Action Plan

This section will help you understand how to be more effective in relationships and situations. Good relationships can get better and challenging relationships may become good. After reviewing the information, select a relationship in which things have not gone as smoothly as you would like. Make a commitment to understand the other person's behavioral style and take a few steps to adapt your behavior to meet his/her needs.

What is Behavioral Adaptability? How Can I Do It?

Adaptability is your willingness and ability to adjust your approach or strategy based on the particular needs of the situation or relationship. Your adaptability level influences how others judge their relationship with you. Raise your adaptability level and trust and credibility go up; lower your adaptability level and trust and credibility go down. With adaptability you can treat other people the way THEY want to be treated.

No one style is naturally more adaptable than another. Adaptability concerns the way you manage your own behaviors. You practice adaptability each time you slow down for a C or S style; or when you move a bit faster for the D or I styles. It occurs when the D or C styles take the time to build the relationship with an S or I style; or when the I or S styles focus on facts or get right to the point with D or C styles. It means adjusting your behavior to make other people feel more at ease with you. Adaptability means adjusting your openness, directness, pace, and priority in the direction of another's preference, while maintaining your own identity.

Adaptability is important to all successful relationships. People often adopt a different style in their professional lives than they do in their social and personal lives. We tend to be more adaptable at work and less adaptable at home and with people we know better. Not adapting would cause others to view us as rigid and uncompromising, because we insist on behaving according to our own natural pace and priority.

Effectively adaptable people – those who lead and love like Jesus - meet other people's needs as well as their own. Through practice, they are able to achieve a balance: strategically managing their adaptability by recognizing when a modest compromise is appropriate, or, when the nature of the situation calls for them to totally adapt. Adaptable people know how to negotiate relationships in a way that allows everyone to win. They are tactful, reasonable, understanding, and non-judgmental.

Communication Plan with the STEADINESS Style

CHARACTERISTICS	SO YOU...
Concerned with stability	Show how your idea minimizes risk
Think logically	Show reasoning
Want documentation and facts	Provide data and proof
Like personal involvement	Demonstrate your interest in them
Need to know step-by-step sequence	Provide outline and/or one-two-three instructions as you personally "walk them through"
Want others to notice their patient perseverance	Compliment them for their steady follow-through
Avoid risks and changes	Give them personal assurances
Dislike conflict	Act non-aggressively, focus on common interest or needed support
Accommodate others	Allow them to provide service or support for others
Look for calmness and peace	Provide a relaxing, friendly atmosphere
Enjoy teamwork	Provide them with a cooperative group
Want sincere feedback that they're appreciated	Acknowledge their easygoing manner and helpful efforts, when appropriate

Communication Plan with the CONSCIENTIOUS Style

CHARACTERISTICS	SO YOU...
Concerned with aggressive approaches	Approach them in an indirect, nonthreatening way
Think logically	Show your reasoning
Seek data	Give data to them in writing
Need to know the process	Provide explanations and rationale
Utilize caution	Allow them to think, inquire and check before making decisions
Prefer to do things themselves	When delegating, let them check procedures, and other progress and performance before they make decisions
Want others to notice their accuracy	Compliment them on their thoroughness and correctness when appropriate
Gravitate toward quality control	Let them assess and be involved in the process when possible
Avoid conflict	Tactfully ask for clarification and assistance you may need
Need to be right	Allow them time to find the best or "correct" answer, within available limits
Like to contemplate	Tell them "why" and "how"

Application: List the name of someone with whom you'd like to better communicate, either personally or professionally: _____

Based on their behavioral style, list several strategies from the "So You ..." section above that would create better communication:
